$10,000,000 AID FOR VETERANS

Job printing and book binding of Red Cross Provides Friendly Service of Many Kinds to Army of Disabled.

BULK OF WORK BY CHAPTERS

2,397 of These Are Helping Ex-Service Men Obtain Benefits U. S. Provides.

One field of Red Cross service alone, made public today. that of assisting disabled veterans of $4,000,000 greater than the aggregate receipts of the Annual Roll Call of 1920, the American Red Cross announces in a statement urging a widespread increase in membership at the Annual Roll Call, November 11 to 24. At the present time National Headquarters and the nation-wide chain of Chapters of the Red Cross is spending approximately $10,000,000 annual ly for the relief of disabled ex-service men and their families, while the aggregate receipts from last year's Roll Cail were approximately $6,000,000. It is in the 2,289 of the 3,600 Red Cross Chapters which still are belping solve the veteran's problem of adjusting himself to a normal civilian status that the greater part of the cost of this service is borne. Of the total sum spent for veterans' relief last year, National Headquarters expended a total of more than $2,600,000, while the remaining dishursement of approximately $7,000,000 represents the contribution of Chapters in this countrywide effort to assist the Government in providing the aid sorely needed by these men and their families.

An Ever Expanding Problem That the problem of the disabled service man is ever-expanding and probably will not reach the peak before 1925, is the assertion of well-informed Government officials and that 2,397 Red Cross Chapters regard it as their most important work is evidence that the expansion is in nowise confined to a particular section but is, on the contrary, nation-wide. At the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1921, in the 1,692 United States Public Health Service, Contract and Government Hospitals and Soldiers Homes, and that number is increasing at a rate of 1,000 a month Thousands of these men receiving medical treatment, compensation and vocational training from the Government today, started their efforts to obtain them through the Red Cross Chapter. The Chapter, acting as the disabled man's agent in claims against the Government, informs the man as to the procedure necessary to gain for him that which is provided him by Federal statute. His applications for compensation, medical treatment and of the Red Cross Chapter.

Many Forms of Assistance

Chapter lends the man money to meet dard time, and close Dec. 16 cerive needs of bimself and his dependents.

Most vital to the man's gaining full keeping his mind free from worry about his home. Keeping the veteran's family from bardship of every kind and informing him of its welfare is an other province of the Chapter Free from fear on this score, the man's recovery and advancement usually is rapid. Every month during the last year, the American Red Cross has given service of one kind or another to an average of 129,215 former service men and their families. An indication of Red Cross Chapter is to be found in the fact that there were 356,544 requests for friendly aid in the solution the extent of the faith reposed in the

of personal problems. 448 Workers In Hospitals

While the man prior to entering Government cure deals largely with the Chapter, afterward he comes into con-tact with the service provided by National Headquarters. There are 448 Red Cross workers in the United States Public Health Service and contract hospitals and other institutions In which these men are being cared for, whose duty is to provide for his recreation, help him with his compensation cinims, keep him in touch with his family; in short, meeting his every need outside of that provided by the of the responsibilities of the National Organization, they are by no means all. Among other Red Cross accomplishments for the year are: It handled 70,732 allotment and allowance claims, ganization 63,655 allotment checks to dent. veterans who had moved from the addresses furnished to the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. It provided a special fund of $10,000 for medical assistance to men under ottonal training.

tt made 22,495 ionns totaling $450,000 per cent has been repaid.

Something to Think About

WHAT CHILDREN READ

PEOPLE would not worry so much child," if they only stopped to think that fathers and mothers, uncles and aunts, of every generation had their doubts as to the new genera

In fact, Adam and Eve were, in all probability, the only proud parents in all history who never said, "Children did not do such things when we were young. The very latest discovery that has in reading is quite different from that

It appears that they are finding rather dull some of the things that appealed to the youngsters of former days, and are demanding more excitement than is good for them. . . .

It is well, in thinking about such a subject, always to remember that older people have a weakness for considering any such change in taste as for the That is the compliment that maturity pays to itself. The great trouble is that we don't remember what we really cared for when we were small, Many of the things that we were upposed to enjoy we didn't really like until we grew up. Others that were forced on us for our good were spoiled for us ferever.

Children have no sense of subtlety, or frony. This is natural.

They read "Alice in Wonderland," or "Gulliver's Travels," or "The Arubian Nights" for the straight story, not for any secondary meaning that is beyond them.

A clever American woman suggests that the children, especially in a big family, should be encouraged to write stories of wild adventure for each other.

This is not so impossible or far fetched as it seems.

A good example came to light recently in the case of the children of Theodore Roosevelt.

That many-sided man was a child among his sons and daughters until the very last. His letters to them, full of action as they are, and illustrated by himself, will last longer than anything else in the way of history or travels that he ever wrote, From him and his youngsters, the woods and waters around Oyster Bay were delightfully mysterious, where anything might happen.

For children the world is still, and always will be, full of a number of things. The main thing is not to try to turn them into little men and

ERNESTINE.

ERNESTINE has an origin of lofty dignity. She is one of the "Eagle" names. Like many of the femnine names connected with mythology, the engie eccupied a position of great respect and even adoration among the ancients, and his name, with various suffixes and prefixes, furnished many of the cognomens then in

"In Scotland the word for eagle was 'erne" and the mame was found in all ountries where there were mountains, the homeland of the king of birds Arnridar, or Arneldar, was the first of the eagle ladies. She was said to be the daughter of Asbiorn, of the Hebrides, who was sold to an Icelander named Katell Thymr. This indy had the good fortune to find a quantity of allver sufficient for her ransom beneath the roots of a tree, but she decided to remain the wife of Thymr and goes down in history as me of the famous women of Iceland.

The next step in the evolution of Ernestine was Arnthorn, and later Annors, who was the wife of Bernard de St. Valeyr. Her name was carried into the family of Bruose by King John's victim, Maude de St. Valety, who

The musculine Ernesto, which preceded Ernestine directly, appeared first in Lombardy in the year 752, through Markgraif of Austria Ernst spread all over Germany after the Reffinally formed the feminine Ernestine. The association, founded by J. W. Though still in great vogue there, It has of late years been contracted to Stine, or Tine, or sometimes Erna.

Bohemia calls her by elaborate Arnostinka, but England and America took her over as Ernestine, and preserves her as such.

The moonstone is Ernestine's talismanle gem. It is said to bring her good fortune and good health and is particularly lucky for lovers who, old legend insists, may read the future in its depths. Sunday is her lucky day and 5 her lucky number. Yellow is said to be her color.
